Designing Hybrid Learning Environments
Federico II University , Naples, Italy

Hybrid Learning Design Toolkit Development: Designed and developed a comprehensive educational toolkit featuring a strategic Canvas and 20 activity cards to assist educators in planning hybrid (online/in-person) courses. The project involved pedagogical research, defining a taxonomy for learning activities (Content, Interaction, Practice, Assessment), and executing the full visual and UI/UX design using Figma. The final outcome is a practical tool that effectively bridges the gap between physical and digital learning environments.
